Storytelling/Workshop for El sueño existe 2009.

A storytelling performance inspired by the life and passions of Victor Jara. Stories for children and adults with messages to inspire us all to act from love and to recognise and conserve the real treasures of life.

Two workshops will accompany this performance one for children and one for adults.

Children's workshop - 45mins. Fun drama games based on cooperation and self awareness and drawing on the themes of the storytelling performance. We will create our own story and give a performance for parents.

Adults workshop – 1 hour. Drama activities from the arsenal of the Theatre of the Oppressed by Augustus Boal. We will explore ways to connect with ourselves and others more deeply and to build trust in order to exercise our freedom of expression. Considering the question of how oppression manifests in 21st C society we will create our own story.
